Title: 30 First Words for Toddlers | Learn to Talk with Miss Poppy | Toddler Learning Video Length: ~10 minutes
· Voice: Miss Poppy ("Gracie" voice, slowed) · Format: 16:9

How to read this script

Every line has a tag that says how it gets made (and what it costs):

Tag	What's on screen	Made with
[TALK]	Miss Poppy close-up, mouth moving with her words	MiniMax lip-sync (the cheaper version we tested)
[SHOW]	The toy / animal / object, moving — you only hear Miss Poppy	Cheap animation (Grok Lite)
[WAIT]	Miss Poppy smiling and waiting so your child can say the word (no talking)	Cheap animation
[REUSE]	Hello song, goodbye song, "Good job!" cheers, confetti — made once, used in every video	Made once in video 1

The word also appears in big friendly letters on screen every time Miss Poppy says it (added in the edit — free).

The teaching loop used for every word (the Ms Rachel-style speech method): show it → name it slowly → "Can you say ___?" → wait 3 seconds → say it again → cheer.

End screen (last ~15 seconds)

- Left tile: next video — "Learn Animal Sounds with Miss Poppy | Farm Animals for Toddlers" (use "Best for viewer" until that video is live, then swap it in).
- Right: Subscribe button.
- Bridge note: the bridge above teases the animal-sounds video, so that should be video #2.

Notes

- Songs: the hello and goodbye songs are original lyrics (no copyright issues). They need a simple music track — I'll quote that cost separately before making it.
- Pauses: every [WAIT] is 3 seconds of silence — this is when the child talks. Don't cut them.
- Speech: "Speech practice," never "therapy." Mouth-shape tips ("lips together," "round lips") are general modeling, as Ms Rachel does.
